

Hotel Pattee Soumas Court

Perry, IA

Summary:

2002; Transformation of an old building site into sculpture garden for historic Hotel Pattee in Perry, IA.

Special Features:

Decorative artwork arches created from scrap metal by artist Albert Paley. Arches were carefully transported and set in place by Neumann – no easy task as each arch weighs approximately 16,000 tons.

Decorative paving stones of an intricate pattern resemble a trellis with vines growing in, about, and around the trellis frame. Custom millwork planter boxes and outdoor furniture complete the space which features other smaller sculptures prepped and installed by Neumann.
